Basis of this opinion

1. With regard to the language, this opinion has been established on the basis of the international application in the language in which it was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.
☐ This opinion has been established on the basis of a translation from the original language into the following language _____, which is the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international search (under Rule 12.3 and 23.1(b)).
2. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application and necessary to the claimed invention, this opinion has been established on the basis of:
  - a. type of material
☐ a sequence listing
☐ table(s) related to the sequence listing
  - b. format of material
☐ in written format
☐ in computer readable form
  - c. time of filing/furnishing ☐ contained in the international application as filed.
☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority for the purposes of search.
3. ☐ In addition, in the case that more than one version or copy of a sequence listing and/or table(s) relating thereto has been filed or furnished, the required statements that the information in the subsequent or additional copies is identical to that in the application as filed or does not go beyond the application as filed, as appropriate, were furnished.

Priority

1. ☒ The following document has not yet been furnished:

☒ copy of the earlier application whose priority has been claimed (Rule 43bis.1 and 66.7(a)).

☐ translation of the earlier application whose priority has been claimed (Rule 43bis.1 and 66.7(b)).

Consequently it has not been possible to consider the validity of the priority claim. This opinion has nevertheless been established on the assumption that the relevant date in the claimed priority date.

2. ☐ This opinion has been established as if no priority had been claimed due to the fact that the priority claim has been found invalid (Rules 43bis.1 and 64.1). Thus for the purposes of this opinion, the international filing date indicated above is considered to be the relevant date.

2 INDEPENDENT CLAIM 7

2.1 The present application does not satisfy the requirements of PCT Article 33(1) because the subject matter of claim 7 is not novel within the meaning of PCT Article 33(2).

Document D1 discloses a semiconductor element, characterized by a design as a light-absorbing or light-emitting LED and as an array thereof (D1: abstract PAJ, figures 1-6). Despite a different manufacturing process, the semiconductor element

3 INDEPENDENT CLAIM 1

- 3.1 The present application does not satisfy the requirements of PCT Article 33(1) because the subject matter of claim 1 is not based on an inventive step within the meaning of PCT Article 33(3).

- 3.1 Document D3 is considered to be the closest prior art in respect of the subject matter of claim 1. It discloses an electrochemical method for the direct nanostructured deposition of material onto a substrate, by depositing at least one material component from a pressure- and temperature-controlled atmosphere using a precursor gas containing at least one material component in a precursor compound, under the effect of a locally narrowly limited electric field which is built up in a voltage- and time-dependent manner between the movable electrically conductive probe tip of a contactlessly scanning microscope and the above a predefined threshold voltage value and the released material component is deposited on the substrate in the region of the probe tip, characterized in that use is made of a precursor gas (D3: page 1171 column 2 line 8 - page 1175 column 2 line 12, figure 1, table 1).

3.2 The subject matter of claim 1 thus differs from that known from D1 in that, a number of precursor gases in a gas mixture are used for the electrochemical method for nanostructuring on a substrate.

3.3 The problem to be solved by the present invention can thus be considered to be that the chemical method permits the production of compound conductors under vacuum.

3.4 The solution proposed in claim 1 of the present application cannot be considered to be inventive for the following reasons (PCT Article 33(3)): the production of compound conductors by means of a chemical method under vacuum and using a number of precursor gases is already known (D4: page 5 line 11 - page 6 line 26 and claims 1, 2).

3.5 The person skilled in the art would therefore combine all the features disclosed in D3 and D4, without thereby being inventive, to solve the problem of interest. The solution proposed in the independent claim 1 therefore cannot be considered

Claims 2-5, 8-10 do not contain any features which, in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer back, satisfy the requirements of the PCT in respect of novelty and inventive step.
